Spy Charge Ridiculous, Couple Says

French Deny They Have Granted Pair Political Asylum

PARIS, July 9 (AP)—An American couple tonight declared charges they had spied for Russia are false and ridiculous. Earlier in the day they told reporters in agitated tones that France was giving them political asylum, but the French said this was not the case.

Russian-born George Zlatovski and his wife Jane, of San Francisco, were indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury in New York on charges of conspiring to transmit vital U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union.

"We have chosen to live in France since 1949 and the French authorities are perfectly informed about the American pretensions," they said in a brief statement.

"The information concerning us—such as we have read it in the press—is straight out of a novel. Everything in it is false, and moreover ridiculous."

The couple shut themselves up in their apartment. If returned to the United States for trial and convicted, they could face the death penalty.

Earlier in the day, Zlatovski had raised the issue of political asylum as a possible defense against being returned to the United States.

"The French have given us political asylum," the Russian-born former U.S. Army intelligence officer told reporters who found him in a walk-up left bank apartment. "We are their guests."

But the French government immediately denied this.

"The question has not yet arisen," a Foreign Ministry spokesman said. "The United States has not as yet asked for extradition."

The U.S. Embassy confirmed no formal request has yet been made for custody of the couple, indicted by a federal grand jury in New York Monday as active members of a Kremlin-directed espionage ring for which three others face sentencing July 29.

Israel, Syria Forces Battle For 10 Hours

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, July 9 (AP)—Israeli and Syrian forces battled with rifle, machine-gun and mortar fire for 10 hours today along the borders of the upper Jordan River.

Israeli sources said a shepherd was killed and seven Israeli police were wounded. A U.N. spokesman said there also were casualties on the Syrian side. The number was not estimated.

An Israeli army spokesman said the Syrian positions ceased firing at 10:45 p.m. "and quiet now reigns over the area."

The firing halted after the U.N. had issued four cease-fire orders. U. S. Marine Col. Bryon W. Leary, acting U.N. truce chief who tried to put the cease-fires into effect, flew to Damascus for conferences with Syrian officials.

Israel opened the clash came after Syrians opened fire on the Godot settlement and on Israeli vehicles traveling north to the Sea of Galilee. It was the latest of a series of clashes that began in June.

Roy Dent, 47, of Shilo, has been charged with murder, according to Charles County Sheriff Avery C. Monroe. The sheriff said Butler and Dent, both Negroes, had been on a fishing trip Saturday and Sunday.

All-White Jury Seated In Mass Contempt Trial

CONVICTION UPSET — The conviction of Cornell University Prof. Robert L. Taylor (above) for contempt of Congress has been reversed by the U. S. Court of Appeals. Taylor refused to name alleged one-time Communist associates. The action, taken June 28, was not revealed until yesterday. (AP Photofax)

House Reversal Assures Soil Bank Extension

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The House today reversed its stand of two months ago and voted to continue the Eisenhower administration's soil bank farm program for one more year. There wasn't even a fight about it.

The switch came on a voice vote which passed and sent to the Senate the annual agriculture appropriations bill. Senate approval seems certain.

On May 15 the House voted 192-187 to kill the major part of the soil bank plan at the end of this year. Critics charged it was marked by waste and mismanagement. Supporters argued it went into effect so late in the spring of 1956 it hadn't been given a fair trial.

The Senate balked at this House action and voted funds to continue full operation of the soil bank. A Senate-House conference committee then drafted a compromise bill, including the soil bank money which was voted on today.

As passed by the House, the bill gives the Agriculture Department some 3½ billion dollars for the fiscal year which began July 1. This was some 365 million dollars less than President Eisenhower had requested and nearly 100 millions less than the House voted originally.

The section of the soil bank involved in the House reversal was the acreage reserve feature. Under this farmers are paid for taking out of production land which has been used to grow basic crops in surplus supply.

The House originally voted nothing for this plan while the Senate voted 500 million dollars. The Senate figure was accepted in the compromise.

Guilty Innocent

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—Guilty was innocent today in Traffic Court. Judge John J. Sullivan dismissed nine traffic violations against Grady Guilty, 22, for lack of evidence. Guilty had been accused of driving a car which injured Herman Shaw on March 24.

Visiting N.Y. Cop Fells Baltimore 'Block' Gunman

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—A vacationing New York City policeman was cast in the hero's role today after clobbering with a bar stool a night clubber who shot a doorman after being refused a drink.

And the New Yorker, Patrolman John McWade, 30, of the Bronx, had to admit Baltimore's notorious "Block," a collection of bistros, night clubs, strip shows and shooting galleries, has a justly deserved reputation.

"It's a good place to stay away from," McWade said. "We don't have any action any faster than that in New York."

Baltimore police said the gun-slinging patron whipped out a .38 caliber revolver when he was refused another drink at closing time of the Trocadero Night Club, was not identified immediately.

Government Will Begin Case Today

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 9 (AP)—An all-white jury was completed today in U.S. District Court for the mass contempt trial of 16 defendants in the Clinton segregation case. Defense lawyers called it a "history shaping" trial.

The 12 jurors, including two women, were seated with an unexpected late burst of speed after the 19-man battery of defense attorneys had wasted little time in dismissing four Negro candidates for the panel.

Four alternate jurors remain to be chosen before the federal government begins presenting its case tomorrow.

The 16 are charged with criminal contempt of court, on grounds the violated U.S. District Judge Robert L. Taylor's permanent injunction against interfering with court-ordered integration of white and Negro students at Clinton High School.

Outgrowth Of Violence — The trial is based on outbursts of violence in November and December which rocked the little town of Clinton, 20 miles northwest of here, after 12 Negroes were admitted along with about 800 white students in August.

The jury trial was granted in response to a defense motion. Chief defense counsel Robert L. Dobbs of Memphis hit hard on the theme that the trial is a major event in American legal history. "Do you realize," he repeatedly asked prospective jurors, "that this is possibly the most important lawsuit in the nation for some time and is shaping history?"

The first touch of religious dispute was injected in the trial during the day when J. Benjamin Simmons, counsel for segregationist Frederick John Kasper, Washington, D.C., White Citizens Council leader, demanded to know whether the employer of one of the jury candidates was a Jew.

Hertz Employee Excused

The incident arose when Will S. Temple of Knoxville identified the president of the nationwide Hertz Rent-A-Car System as Walter Jacobs of Chicago. Temple is a long-time employee in the Hertz system.

Closely questioning Temple about all his superiors, both locally and nationally, Simmons pounced on Temple's mention of the name "Jacobs."

"Is Walter Jacobs a Jew?" the defense lawyer asked. Temple nodded in the affirmative. Simmons thereupon excused Temple from the jury with a peremptory challenge.

Nickerson Sentence Ordered Executed

ATLANTA, July 9 (AP)—The 3rd Army commander today approved the court-martial sentence of Col. John C. Nickerson who was fined $1,500 and reprimanded for misuse of secret defense information.

Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey ordered into execution the sentence handed down June 29 after a five-day trial at Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

The case still must be reviewed by the Department of the Army and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

The former West Point graduate admitted at the beginning of the trial 15 charges that he leaked secret defense data to certain key people. He said he did so in an effort to reverse an order by Secretary Wilson which assigned the major part of the missiles program to the Air Force.

Controversial Gas Bill OK'd By House Unit

Fate Of Measure To Relax Controls Remains In Doubt

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—A bill to ease federal regulation of prices charged by natural gas producers was approved today by the House Commerce Committee. The ultimate fate of the controversial measure remains a question.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told newsmen he believes the bill has a good chance of House passage this year, if everyone who has voiced support for the bill "puts their ear in."

There was considerable doubt, however, that the Senate would get to the bill this session, what with the developing marathon debate on civil rights legislation.

The Commerce Committee voted 15-13 to recommend the bill. Once its reports are drafted, it will ask the Rules Committee to clear the measure for floor action. Further opposition is expected within the rules group.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark.) of the Commerce Committee wrote the bill, which would free natural gas producers from utility-type regulation by the Federal Power Commission.

Producers still would be subject to rate regulation, but on a "reasonable market value" basis rather than under the cost plus a reasonable profit formula applied to utilities.

Opponents, most of them from urban areas, argue that the bill would permit producers to charge all the traffic would bear. The measure's supporters contend it would offer adequate protection for consumers and still ease burdensome federal regulations.

The Harris bill does not go as far as the similar proposal which Congress passed last year, only to draw a presidential veto. The 1956 bill would have freed producers from all direct federal regulation.

President Eisenhower said in vetoing last year's bill that he favored that type of legislation, but could not sign it because of "arrogant" lobbying in its behalf by some segments of the oil industry.

"Black Sheep" Out, Red Boss Tells Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 9 (AP)—"We took the black sheep by the tail and threw them out." That is Nikita Khrushchev's explanation of last week's Moscow purge. He gave it to a Czechoslovak audience today as he and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin arrived for a week's visit.

"It's no secret what happened in the Soviet Union recently," said Khrushchev. "We announced it ourselves. We had some black sheep in a good herd. They thought they would take over power, and you know how it ended."

"We took the black sheep by the tail and threw them out," Khrushchev drew cheers from the crowd he was addressing, largely factory workers, at Zilina.

He and Bulganin, along with Antonin Novotny, Czech Communist chief, were on a 500-mile train trip from the Soviet-Czech border to Prague. They are due here tomorrow.

Khrushchev gave his endorsement to Novotny as "one of the great sons of the Czechoslovak people." He implied Novotny's job is safe "if the party of Gottwald is with us, and I am convinced it is."

Klement Gottwald succeeded Eduard Benes as president when the Communists took over this country in 1948. Benes died four years ago.

"The Czech Communist party fully supported us and the decisions of the 20th party Congress. That is friendship."

Czechoslovakia, recognized abroad as one of the staunchest pillars of communism in Eastern Europe, is a nation of dramatic contradictions. Politically, its upper crust is made up of fanatical Communists much more difficult to deal with than Kremlin bureaucrats.

Its Communist party and government leaders are all old Stalinists. Thus Khrushchev must have found some difficulty on his long train trip with Novotny, explaining the Kremlin's anti-Stalinist purge.

Buildup Starts For Fired Reds' Party Expulsion

MOSCOW, July 9 (AP)—The Soviet government's official newspaper today cleared the way for the expulsion of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich from the Communist party.

In a major editorial, the government newspaper Izvestia again invoked Lenin's 1921 injunction that in cases of violation of party discipline the Central Committee is empowered to use extreme measures, including expulsion.

Without party membership, a Soviet citizen cannot participate in any significant government or party activity. Expulsion amounts to political annihilation.

Molotov, Malenkov, and Kaganovich, have been ousted from the party's ruling Presidium by a unanimous vote of the Central Committee.

The Central Committee's announcement July 3 referred to the 1921 Lenin credo on discipline. Today's underscoring left little doubt that the minimum fate facing the Stalinist triumvirate is expulsion from the party.

Whether the party leaders, headed by Nikita Khrushchev, will be satisfied with the political destruction of their opponents remains to be seen.

"The 10th party Congress (1921) authorized the Central Committee, in cases of violation of discipline or revival of factionalism, to use all measures of party retribution up to and including expulsion from the party," Izvestia said.

"With members of the Central Committee this includes demotion to candidate members and, in extreme cases, to expulsion from the party."

"The party cannot tolerate those who do not carry out the will of the majority, who do not place the interest of the party above everything else, who try to bring dissension into its ranks and who plot against its unity."

House Accepts Red Barter Proposition

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The House agreed today to permit the government to barter surplus farm commodities with Communist satellite nations.

Abandoning a long stand against Red barter, the House yielded to Senate insistence and accepted the barter provision as part of a compromise bill extending the Agricultural Trade and Assistance Act another year.

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—Maxwell Abbell, 55, Zionist leader and a man of multiple business and civic enterprises, died of a coronary attack today. Abbell, who came to the United States from his native Poland at the age of 3, headed the Abbell Management Corp., operator of business buildings from coast to coast; The Abbell Hotels, a chain which includes the Willard Hotel in Washington, D.C.; and a law firm, and was senior partner in Maxwell Abbell & Co., an accounting firm, all in Chicago.

President Plans To Vacation Near Newport, R. I.

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—A naval base near the summer resort town of Newport, R. I., is the spot President Eisenhower has picked for his "when and if" vacation.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said today the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will vacation on Coasters Harbor Island in Narragansett Bay when and if the congressional situation permits.

Hagerty, Secret Service agents and Capt. E. P. Aurand, the President's naval aide, inspected the site last Friday and recommended it. Aurand originally made the suggestion that the Rhode Island area would be a good place.

The island, on which are the Naval War College and a training base, is accessible by causeways from Newport. The Newport area is famous for its mild and equable temperature, and it has been a favorite vacation spot for wealthy New Yorkers since the Civil War. There are many palatial "summer cottages" there.

Judy Tyler's Body Cremated

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Actress Judy Tyler and her husband, united but briefly in life, went their separate ways in death today.

Her body was cremated here after funeral services that attracted thousands. He was buried in a rural Hudson Valley graveyard after a quiet service at Hopewell Junction, about 40 miles north of the city.

Married less than four months, Miss Tyler and her husband, actor Gregory Lafayette, died together last Wednesday in an auto collision near Laramie, Wyo. Both were 24.

Miss Tyler played the feminine lead in the Broadway musical, "Pipe Dream." She also had appeared on television and recently co-starred in a movie with Elvis Presley. Lafayette had made several television appearances.

New Borax Fuel Boosts Jet Efficiency Up To 50%

NIACARA FALLS, N.Y., July 9 (AP)—The Defense Department today revealed the first steps leading to production of a high-energy jet engine fuel it says will enable the giant B58 bomber to fly around the world without refueling.

The fuel, produced by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Co., is called HEF-2. It will increase the efficiency of a jet engine by up to 50 per cent, the company said.

The company laid a symbolic cornerstone of a new plant that, when completed, will be the first commercial source of HEF-2. The plant will cost 3 million dollars. It is being financed by the Air Force.

At the same time, the company opened to newsmen a 5½-million-dollar plant that has been producing the fuel in small quantities about a month.

Fidazzo Guilty In Strangling Of Secretary

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 9 (AP)—Alfred Fidazzo was convicted of first degree murder, without capital punishment, late today. The jury deliberated one hour, 20 minutes before returning its verdict of guilty.

Fidazzo himself, a Baltimore laborer, was not among defense witnesses testifying.

Sentence was deferred until 10 a.m. tomorrow. The jury returned its verdict about 6:30 p.m.

Earlier today, 10-year-old Philip Novak told the jury how he hid under a bed the morning his mother was slain. The handsome youngster, dressed in a plaid sport coat, white shirt and khaki pants, was one of the last state witnesses.

Fidazzo, 39, is charged with murder in the strangling of Mrs. Marcia June Novak, 27-year-old attractive secretary, April 15. Mrs. Novak was killed at a house in Forest Glen, Anne Arundel County, where police said she had lived with Fidazzo for six years.

Young Philip was obviously nervous when he took the stand today in Carroll County Circuit Court. Judge James E. Boylan Jr. had to remind him repeatedly to speak up during his testimony.

The boy testified he was awakened at 4:45 a.m. by a loud noise, explaining he knew the exact time because there was a clock on a stand by his bed.

"I heard a noise like someone picking up something and dropping it in the front room," he told the jury of six men and six women. "I went to the door and peeped out."

He said he saw Fidazzo kneeling down and that he could see only the legs of his mother. He crawled under his mother's bed, he said, because "I was afraid father (Fidazzo) would see me."

The youngster said he heard Fidazzo go to a closet, return to the living room, then drag something from the living room toward the bathroom. He said Fidazzo came into the bathroom three times and left the house.

The initial production cost was $5,000 a pound, the company said. When the new plant is in production, in about 20 months, the cost will be $4 a pound.

The basis of the new fuel is borax, a common crystalline substance used as a cleaner. The finished product is a clear, rather oily liquid.

Brig. Gen. Clyde H. Mitchell, deputy director of production, Air Materiel Command, said the fuel gives U. S. air power "amazing deterrent" to any potential aggressor.

Among the practical economies the fuel could make possible, although none was specifically mentioned here, would be the elimination of overseas bases or refueling depots for intercontinental bombers.

Senate Civil Rights Bill Held Valid

Russell Protests Decision Clerical Mistake Repaired

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) challenged today a ruling by Vice President Nixon that the Senate is debating the correct version of a civil rights bill passed by the House.

After the House passed the bill, a clerical error was made in printing the bill. An amendment was placed on the wrong page, and this erroneous version reached the Senate side of the Capitol.

But Nixon ruled that the mistake had now been corrected in a routine way and there was no need to send the bill back to the House.

At first Russell said he would appeal Nixon's ruling to the Senate itself and demand a roll call vote, but later he withdrew his point of order against the ruling.

Russell explained he knew "the Knowland-Douglas axis" had the votes to prevail in the present situation. He said he would wait for "a calmer day" to settle the issue, which is intertwined with the Senate rules.

Dixie Attack Continues

By the "Knowland-Douglas axis" Russell meant the supporters of Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.). Knowland and Douglas have joined forces to push for passage of the civil rights bill.

Russell's protest topped an afternoon in which Southern senators launched a fresh attack on the bill—legislation which threatens to involve the Senate in eight weeks or more of clashing debate.

Sen. Ervin (D-NC) asserted the bill would make the U. S. attorney general "dictator of all the Southern States," while Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.) described the measure as "a slick, devious scheme to bypass the Bill of Rights."

Russell contended that backers of the administration-sponsored legislation were trying to force before the Senate for action an incorrect version of the bill passed by the House June 18. He said the measure should be sent back to the House for correction—a move that would delay Senate consideration.

Ike Receptive To Changes

Knowland asked Nixon, as presiding officer of the Senate, for a ruling on Russell's point.

Nixon explained that a House amendment had been placed on the wrong page of the House bill which was sent to the Senate and read to it twice under the rules. He said a corrected version had been substituted for the original one and ruled that this version now was the one which Knowland has moved to bring before the Senate.

Before today's debate began, Knowland pictured President Eisenhower as receptive to some changes in the bill.

The Senate GOP leader told reporters President Eisenhower hasn't closed the door to "clarifying" amendments to the legislation.

Doleful Dirges For Five Years Too Depressing

ST. LOUIS, July 9 (AP)—After five years Mrs. Paul Eckert of suburban Pagedale has grown sick of funeral dirges.

She appealed for help from the St. Louis County Council in stopping the doleful refrains which come from nearby Valhalla Cemetery over a loudspeaker system during burial services.

She said her complaints to the cemetery personnel brought an answer that "you only hear them when the wind is blowing your way."

Mrs. Eckert said the "loud, sad, depressing music slowly tears down the living while the dead are being buried."

Europe Heat Wave Deaths Reach 339

ROME, July 9 (AP)—The dead from Europe's week-long heat wave totaled 339 tonight. Blistering sunny Italy paid the heaviest toll.

Cool winds relieved parts of Northern Europe. In Finland and Sweden there was frost and snow.

But throughout the Italian peninsula searing heat was blamed for the death of at least 147 persons since Sunday. Of the dead, 95 were inmates of old people's homes in Milan, Venice and Padua.

Virginia, Maryland Governors To Join In Potomac Parley

ANNAPOLIS, July 9 (AP)—The governors of Virginia and Maryland agreed today to attend a conference with members of their legislatures to hash over Potomac River problems, but—

Gov. McKeldin said the meeting, proposed by the Maryland Legislative Council, was "a three-ring approach to what I consider (a) rather simple problem."

The reaction of Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia was less restrained. "A splendid idea," he said.

The council, composed of 20 legislators who screen proposals when the Legislature is not in session, suggested the meeting after McKeldin and Stanley protested the licensing of a boat for liquor sales on the Potomac.

The vessel is tied up in the Maryland-owned river at the end of a pier jutting from the Virginia shore.

In asking officials of Charles County not to issue the license, McKeldin said the boat's operation as an anchored pleasure craft would be flaunting Virginia's laws against the sale of whisky by the drink.

The tee-totaling Maryland governor scornfully referred to the vessel as a "waterborne highball haven" and "drifting daiquiri dispensary."

Charles County officials, who previously had licensed several similar establishments off the Virginia shore, rejected McKeldin's request to withdraw their approval of the boat's liquor permit.

The Maryland Democrat-controlled council was asked by the Republican governor to draft legislation "to eliminate the unhappy circumstances of the circumvention of Virginia laws by drinking and gambling establishments operating in the Potomac River under the licensing authority of certain Maryland counties."

Instead, the council voted to invite its counterpart across the state line, the Virginia Advisory Council, and governors of both states to a comprehensive meeting on all Potomac River problems.

SRC Sessions Today

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—The State Roads Commission announced today it will hold three sessions tomorrow at Perryville.

Prather To Quit Part-Time Job

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—Dr. Perry F. Prather, director of the State Health Department, said today he will quit his $200-a-month part-time job as reviewing physician for the State Department of Public Welfare.

The health director said he will inform Gov. McKeldin of his willingness to accede to the "suggestion" made by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Dr. Prather said he had thought it was all right for him to carry on the welfare work on his own time and had been given to understand the board approved the set-up. He said he had planned to give up the work anyway because it consumes much of his time in evenings and over weekends.

While another physician has been helping him by filling in when needed, Dr. Prather said the selection of a successor to the welfare job would rest with Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of public welfare.

The part-time job involved aid to permanently and totally disabled persons. Dr. Prather, then deputy director of the Health Department, took the job when another physician left State work. He continued in the position after becoming director in January, 1956 at an annual salary of $17,500.

Professor's Contempt Conviction Thrown Out

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The contempt of Congress conviction of Prof. Marcus Singer of Cornell University has been thrown out by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The court in April had upheld the conviction — for refusing to tell a congressional committee about his onetime Communist associates — but reversed itself in order to conform with the Supreme Court decision in the Watkins case in June.

The reversal was voted June 28 but the court did not make its order available until today.

In the Watkins case, the Supreme Court reversed the contempt conviction of a man who refused to identify persons he had known as Communists in the past. The court held he had not been given a fair chance to know whether he was within his rights in refusing to answer questions.

This Watkins case precedent figured in two other cases today.

1. Atty. Joseph L. Rauh Jr., representing Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, said he will ask again in Federal District Court that the contempt case against Miller be thrown out.

2. U. S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl took under advisement a motion to set aside the contempt conviction of Seymour Peck. Peck has refused to name his Red associates of the past, and lawyers argued before Youngdahl today whether the Watkins precedent applies to him.

Welfare Fund Laws Opposed By Lewis

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—John L. Lewis told the House Labor Committee today there is no necessity for federal legislation on welfare funds.

He talked about the liberty and free enterprise on which this nation was founded, of labor unions as free voluntary associations, and observed:

"Yet we speak calmly here today of our government adopting measures from which our forefathers fled to populate this country."

He offered some philosophy: "You cannot achieve virtue merely by the enactment of statute because enactment of a statute does not change the character of men."

Ginger Divorces Fourth Husband

SANTA MONICA, Calif., July 9 (AP)—Actress Ginger Rogers got a divorce today from her fourth husband, French actor Jacques Bergerac, after testifying he subjected her to long periods of silence and unexplained absences and that he drove the family car too fast.

Miss Rogers, 45, said Bergerac, 30, would not speak to her sometimes for three or four weeks "even though we sat across the table from each other during dinner."

Miss Rogers, charging mental cruelty, said Bergerac drove the car at excessive speeds and that when she protested he would sometimes drive even faster.

First Negro Enrolls In Md. Police School

PIKESVILLE, Md., July 9 (AP)—Milton Sylvester Taylor today became the first Negro to enroll in the Maryland State Police Academy.

The 24-year-old former paratrooper, who attended schools at Elkridge and Morgan State College, was one of 55 men picked to start the new six-month training cycle.

Capt. Wilbur H. Conroy, director of training and personnel, said Taylor was among 247 applicants who survived a physical and written examinations to enter the academy.

The son of Mrs. Margaret Hall of Elkridge and the stepson of a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employee, he is the youngest of three brothers. His father died in 1933. One brother is a government lawyer in Washington and the other is a laborer.

Gov. McKeldin To Visit Europe

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, who has made five trips abroad in the past six years, is about to travel again—this time on a strictly for pleasure four-week European vacation with his family.

It's to keep, he says, a long-standing promise to his daughter Clara and son Theodore Jr. that he would take them to Europe before his term as governor ends. It runs through next year.

But the governor says he has to take them now because next year he may have to go to Japan. If he does, that will be overseas trip No. 7.

The governor, Mrs. McKeldin, Clara and John will sail Friday from New York aboard the Holland-American liner New Amsterdam. Their itinerary includes three-day stops in London, Edinburgh, Dublin, Madrid, Rome and Paris, with travel between points by air.

They plan to arrive home about Aug. 13 and will make the return ocean crossing aboard the Queen Elizabeth sailing from Cherbourg, France.

The governor returned about six weeks ago from a five-week "official" visit to Africa and Europe.

Burglars Blamed For Baltimore Fire

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—Burglars who firemen believe tried to cover their crime were blamed today for an early morning fire which gutted a one-story printing firm building and injured 11 firemen.

Damage was estimated at $300,000.

The blaze, during a heavy rainstorm, sent flames 50 to 60 feet into the air and roused residents in a wide area around the east uptown plant.

Officers reported four vending machines in the building, occupied by three printing firms, had been broken into and rifled of cash.

Discovery of coal in America is credited to Father Louis Hennepin.

B&O Freight Drops In June

Freight loadings on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, affected by decreases in steel and miscellaneous shipments, were down 7.6 per cent from June a year ago.

Declines in these two categories more than offset a gain in coal loadings, which account for a large proportion of the road's freight movement.

The company reported 245,189 carloads were moved over its lines last month compared with 265,530 for June a year ago, a decrease of 7.66 per cent.

Loadings originating on the lines accounted for 165,828 cars against 176,676 and traffic received from connections totaled 79,361 cars against 88,854.

Coal shipments moved in good volume, amounting to 63,738 cars compared with 62,354 a year earlier, an increase of 2.32 per cent.

But miscellaneous loadings, at 48,568 cars, were down 12.62 per cent from the June, 1956 total of 55,383 cars.

Iron and steel traffic totaled 15,048 cars against 16,957 in the comparable 1956 period when shippers were stocking up in preparation for last year's steel strike—a decline of 11.26 per cent.

Dance Time

A young, elegant, marvelous graceful couple on the dance floor will always be the rage. They have rhythm and a beauty which not only is fascinating but entertains all who watch.

No Problem

What about you? Has anyone asked you to go dancing lately... and if not, why not? No girl has any popularity problems if she's a good dancer.

If you are nervous, abrupt, or jerky in your dance steps, then this is the time to practice. To help you, we have created exclusively for readers of this column a booklet called, "Dance Through a Week to Beauty."

The unique booklet includes dance steps anyone can do. Not only will they bring grace and give you self-assurance on the dance floor, but they'll help reduce your measurements, too. Write to "Secrets of Charm" in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents (in coin) for a copy of this fine booklet.

The More, The Easier

Your success will depend upon practice and application. Get your brother, your friends... and even your Dad to dance with you. The more people you dance with, the easier it will be for you on the dance floor.

Take an interest in dancing and don't be afraid to try new steps with a new partner. The ordeal isn't yours alone. If you don't dance with him, someone else will.

Tomorrow: Try for Position.

Visits Baltimore Port

A 12-man Japanese ore handling study team, under auspices of the International Cooperation Administration, will be guests of the Maryland Port Authority today.

In cooperation with the Bethlehem Steel Company, the Canton Railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and other port interests, arrangements have been made for the group to tour ore handling facilities in the port. Last year Baltimore's ore piers handled over one million tons per month.

The team, which includes managers and engineers from Japanese governmental agencies and from private companies which are ore users and bulk material transporters, is particularly interested in problems of ore storage, selection of specialized equipment for handling, transportation, terminal operation and coordination and cooperation among mine, carrier, terminal and user.

Cases In Juvenile Court Show Increase For June

Cases handled during June in month, it does not mean an increase in juvenile delinquency. Jeffries, in releasing his report, said that a number of the cases handled during June, date back to March and have been an accumulation of work. Of the 75 cases handled last month, 25 involved adults and 50 were minors. The classification of juvenile hearings by Magistrate Anderson included 40 delinquents and 10 custody cases. Thirteen adults appeared before the court for contributing to the delinquency of minors, one for the neglect of a minor, one for uniform support and 10 for non-support. The reasons for the referral of juveniles to the court were five disorderly conduct, seven sex offenses (which is as many as recorded during the year 1956), 20 for stealing, one school problem, two motor vehicle violations, three for discharging firecrackers within the city limits and 10 non-delinquent acts. The sources of referral on the juveniles were 21 police cases, one parent, two relatives, one from the Board of Education, two from the Welfare Department, seven from the State's Attorney and 16 from unrelated individuals. The age range of the delinquents showed five under seven years of age, and nine over 17 years of age, Jeffries said. Forty-two of the juveniles had no previous court record, while five had one previous offense and three were "two-time" losers. Nineteen of the children lived with both parents—two stayed with their fathers, 28 with their mothers and one with a relative. The disposition of the juvenile cases included: 19 warnings by Magistrate Anderson, two had jurisdiction waived, one was referred to the Welfare Board, seven had custody awarded to the Welfare Board, four had custody changed, two were committed to the Maryland Training School, one was placed on probation with the Welfare Board and 14 were placed on regular probation. Two adults had petitions withdrawn, two had cases dismissed, four were warned, three were sentenced to correctional institutions, one was fined, seven received suspended sentences, three were ordered to pay support, one was ordered uniform support, one requested a jury trial and one could not be located. Jeffries' report also revealed that during June a total of $14,705.18 was received by the local court for support cases. At the end of June an even 100 persons were on probation, including 94 juveniles and six adults.

Hampshire Co. School Board Ruling Upheld

The West Virginia Supreme Court has upheld a Hampshire County Circuit Court's ruling concerning an appointment to the Board of Education.

The State Supreme Court by unanimously refusing to hear the case certified from Hampshire County in effect upheld the ruling that Walter C. McDonald of Sherman District should be seated on the Board of Education. In April Judge Harlan M. Calhoun in Hampshire County Circuit Court ruled that McDonald was properly seated on the board to fill the unexpired term of the late Homer Loy. P. Cary Adams of Romney had asked the county court that he be seated on the board on the ground that he received more votes than McDonald. Judge Calhoun, however, ruled that Adams was the victim of a situation "not likely to be duplicated."

Three vacancies on the board came up in the May 8, 1956 election. Adams, McDonald and four others were candidates and the two high vote getters were seated on the board. However, even though Adams ran third in the voting, the board seated McDonald because two other men from Romney already were serving. The 1951 Legislature passed a law limiting to two the number of board members who may serve from the same magisterial district.

Mail Hauling Contracts Extended

The contracts for mail runs from Cumberland to Franklin, W. Va., have been extended to August 30, local Post Office officials said yesterday. The U. S. Post Office Department had advertised for bids for trucking mail between the two points, it was explained, under a plan which would consolidate three present star routes. The contract was to have been let the first of this month, but postal spokesmen said additional time was needed to study the bids. The routes which are being continued one from Cumberland to Petersburg and return which carries all classes of mail, one from Franklin to Cumberland in the morning, with return trip in the afternoon, which carries only preferential and first and second class mail, and one from Franklin to Cumberland which serves as a night dispatch for first class mail only. As advertised by the U. S. Post Office Department, the consolidated route will carry all classes of mail daily, Monday through Saturday, with runs scheduled at 5 a. m. and 2:15 p. m. On Sundays, the carrier will leave the Cumberland terminal at 6:45 a. m. for the only run on that day.

City To Close Registration Books Aug. 5

Registration books for city voters will be closed August 5 eight days prior to a referendum on the proposal to raise the city tax limitation to $1.50.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said yesterday he has set machinery in motion for the election to be held Tuesday, August 13.

In all probability, the election will be held under supervision of the Board of Election Supervisors of Allegany County. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and voting machines will be used. The day and time, Ullery said, are those the city customarily uses for its elections.

In connection with registration, Ullery said any citizen of Cumberland whose name is not on the books by August 5 will not be able to vote.

Meanwhile, Ullery plans to meet with the Board of Election Supervisors to discuss a possible consolidation of local polling places, deadline for notices of the election and the number of workers necessary.

There will be only one question on the ballot. That is: "That the Mayor and Council have the authority to raise the tax limitation for general purposes not to exceed $1.50 for each $100 of assessable property."

Voters will mark their ballots either FOR or AGAINST.

The city originally proposed a resolution to raise the tax limitation from $1.25 to $1.50. At the present time it is within 5 mills of the tax limitation of $1.25 and needs the extra 25 cents as a "cushion" in event of an emergency.

But petitions containing the names of 20 per cent of the qualified voters of the city were submitted asking that the proposal be put to a vote. This was possible under the city's home rule setup and when the necessary number of voters was verified, steps were taken to hold the referendum.

The decimal money system was adopted by Congress on July 6, 1785.

In the past three centuries the world population has more than quadrupled.

Council Orders Lots Cleaned In Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Due to a number of complaints from residents of various sections of the city regarding vacant lots, which have grown up with grass, tall weeds and cause fire and health hazards, Mayor Joseph James and Commissioners have announced that such lots must be cleaned immediately to avoid drastic action by police.

There are a number of vacant lots in the city waist high with grass and weeds, said Mayor James, and in dry weather these lots constitute a fire hazard as well as aggravating hay fever sufferers. The majority of the calls received by the Frostburg Fire Department last summer and fall were to extinguish blazes which started in such places.

The chief of police will be ordered to make a tour of inspection within the next ten days and report all such hazards which he observes.

Tucker County School Budget Is Reduced

PARSONS — Tucker is one of 28 counties which will receive less school aid from the state during the coming year, according to final estimates released by the State Board of School Finance.

According to the new allocation figures, Tucker County will be cut $20,704. The foundation program is the minimum that the Legislature through a formula, estimates that each county school system needs to operate for the school year. It includes state money and local money.

Stelman W. Harper, county superintendent of schools, said the total state aid for the county will amount to $363,423 compared to $384,127 received in 1956-57.

Harper said that the total foundation program Tucker County should have to finance schools during 1957-58, as based on the school formula, is $410,472. The county's share, according to the state tax commissioner's survey, is $86,514. Harper attributed the loss in state aid to the increase in Tucker County's local share and to a drop in enrollment the past year. Last year the county was required to raise only $83,033 locally.

But the dry weather has been good for small grain harvesting and for apple and peach crops in Western Maryland.

As of July 6, the report said, all the barley, three-fourths of the rye, two-thirds of the wheat and 60 per cent of the oats had been harvested.

The harvest of summer apples made good progress during the week with about two-thirds of the Transparents and Lodi already picked. Prospects for peaches are good, the crop reporters said, with picking expected to begin about July 22.

The report listed vegetables, pastures and late planted tobacco as urgently in need of moisture.

The condition of Maryland and Delaware pastures on July 1 because of the dry weather, was the lowest since July 1, 1954, the year of the summer-long drought. Fields of early planted tobacco have good stands and good color, the report added, but late planted fields are suffering from the hot, dry conditions.

In the southern half of the two state area, between 5 and 15 per cent of the corn was in the tasseling stage at week's end. That's the stage where corn needs adequate moisture to make a crop, the reporters said.

Federal Debt Is Cut $1 Billion

With the climb of the national debt interrupted only twice in the 1931-56 span of U. S. fiscal affairs, the record of two successive fiscal years—1956 and 1957—in which there has been a surplus is reason for satisfaction.

After having originally predicted a 1957 surplus of $2.2 billion, the administration has twice been compelled to revise that figure downward. The final forecast of $1.2 billion was made only three weeks ago. Now the actual surplus turns out to be closer to an even billion.

It is worth noting that much of the budget cutting that has been done at Washington for the current fiscal year will not affect government spending in this 12-month period. Because of long-range appropriations previously made by Congress, much of the government spending could not be cut.

Hence perhaps 75 per cent of the savings represented by cuts currently being made by economy-minded legislators will not be felt until after the end of fiscal 1958.

This is an aspect of federal financial affairs that the Hoover Commission has made a particular target. It has suggested and the White House and Senate have agreed that appropriations should be made for a year at a time. Thus Congress could be aware of how much money is being spent annually.

Now, with huge backlogs of funds in agencies' hands, there is no way for the lawmakers to know. This is a fiscal change the House should approve without delay.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
Better Than Point Four

It used to be an adage before the human race became too wise for its own good that God helps those who help themselves. The real sin of our aid to other countries is that the aid has been used not to raise the standards of living of all the people but to strengthen governments. It cannot be otherwise that in many countries what we used to call graft is a normal characteristic of political operations and this free flow of money from the United States must have encouraged a lot of graft. At any rate, suddenly a large number of unexplainable rich men have appeared whose prosperity is not readily understood and whose personal conduct is what the French, when they were boity-toity, called parvenu. Some of the new multi-millionaires would have a tough time if their accounts were checked.

The Mormons have produced a different idea. Their missionaries, scattered over the Earth, have brought something new into many countries. The missionary doctor is well-known and his achievements have been enormous. No country owes the United States a greater debt than China to which the American medical missionary gave of his heart and his means without stint. The ingratitude of the Red Chinese is only another example of the immorality of Marxism wherever it seeds down.

The Mormons have introduced the labor missionary. Their idea is that if a people want better things and better ways of life, they can learn how to "do-it-yourself." So they are sending out missionaries who are carpenters, electricians, masons, plumbers and painters who will show various peoples how to do things for themselves. This, of course, is no new doctrine with the Mormons who built their incredible economic strength by hard work. That is one reason why during the Depression, Mormons were not on relief.

So, their labor missionaries go to the Pacific Islands, for instance, not to drop a pile of money which is soon dissipated as Indians found the red beads with which they were robbed, useless. The Mormons get together with the local community and all go to work building, let us say, a school house.

Everybody works and when the job is done the local people are proud of their achievement, because they did it. They built it themselves which means a great deal more to a people than to be given money for what they do not need. In New Zealand, 36 Mormons work with a force of 215 native Maoris in this school building operation. The Maoris will love those schools because they are themselves the builders. They also built homes for families and dormitories for single men.

The details of this project are of no particular interest here because they are typical building operations. What is important is that missionary activity, which has for more than a century been America's most valuable contribution to many countries, has found a new outlet and a new method. The missionaries over a century did an infinitely better job for native peoples than any government has ever done.

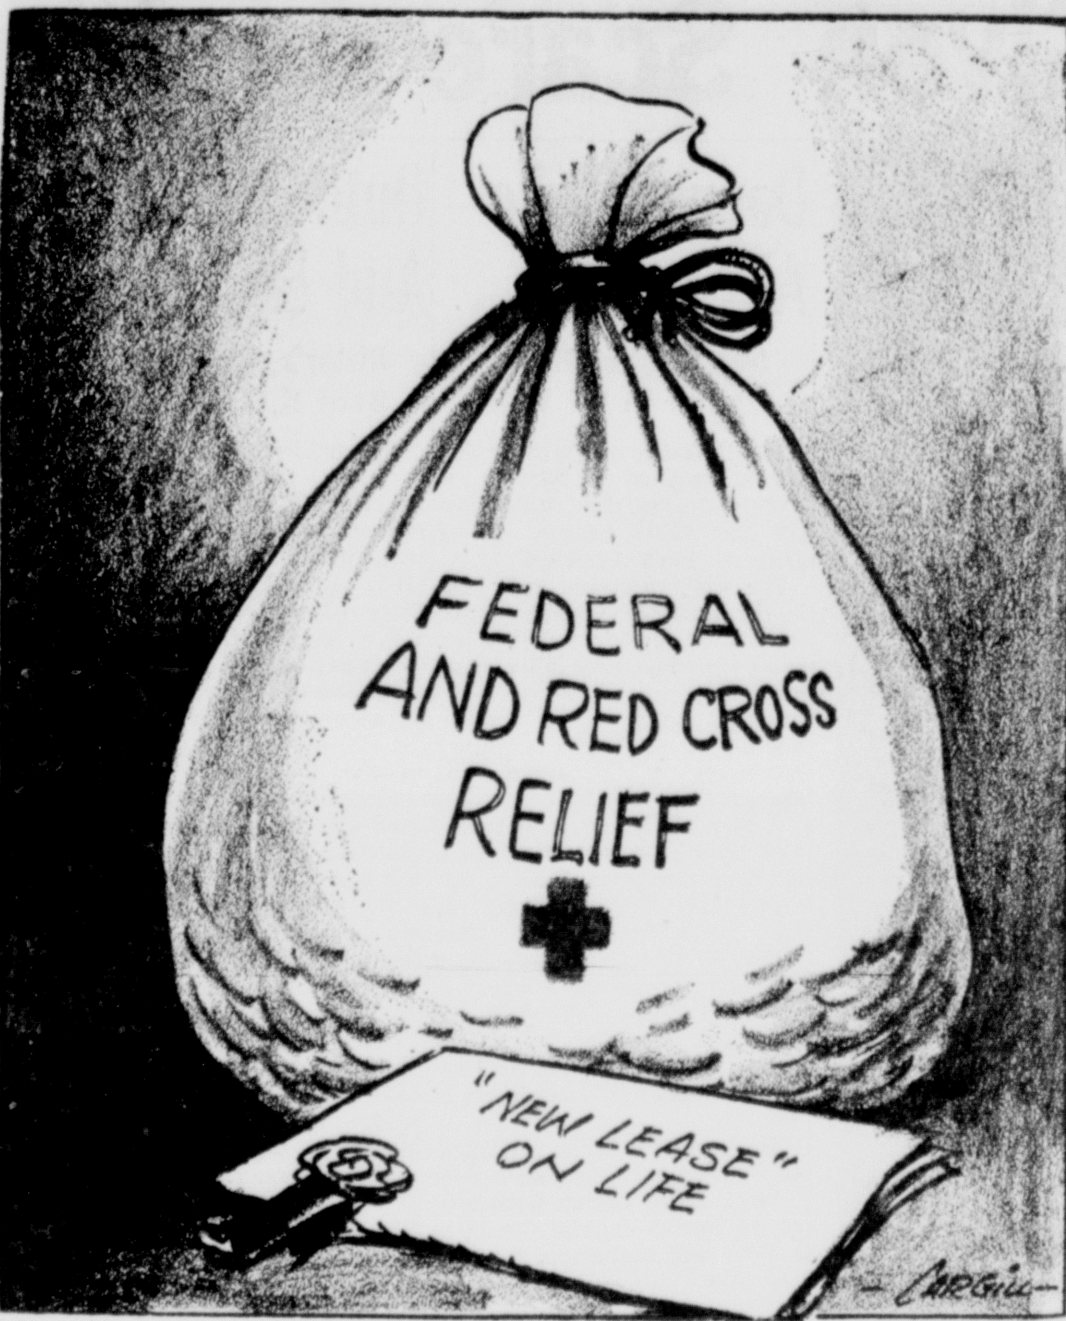

It is interesting that this work should be started by the Mormons who regard missionary activity as a normal function of each member of their sect. It is impossible to forecast the extent of this type of activity where the American is not a supervisor or a boss, but one who works himself and shows others how to work and who departing from a place in two or three years, returns to his private concerns, leaving behind a permanent monument of partnership in constructive living, asking nothing in return.

One of the problems of the break-up of the British Empire is that many small areas, intensely nationalistic, proud beyond historic reason, are being thrown upon their own economic resources and capacities which are too slight to be self-sustaining. Their managerial skill is not as great as they imagine. The task that many of these countries face is to develop managerial ability and skill not so much in government which is never too good anywhere, but in the ordinary tasks of life, such as building substantial homes and school buildings. Perhaps the most useful education in many of these countries is plumbing, a science about which they generally know nothing.

It seems to me, after a long Asiatic experience that the Mormons have hit on a wonderfully good idea.

"Civil Rights" Would Substitute Compulsion

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — What is the real point at issue in the battle over "Civil Rights" now being waged in the Senate? It is the possible enactment of a law threatening the use of military force in order to obtain a conformity of viewpoint on social problems. It is the substituting of a program of compulsion and coercion for faith in the voluntary processes of reason.

It involves not solely a means of assuring voting rights — for many Negroes do vote in the south and several have been elected to city councils there—but a question of reaching into the whole social order in the south with laws authorizing the use of military power to secure "obedience" to the Supreme Court's decision on school "integration." Yet the court itself admitted in the same decision that it was influenced primarily by sociological doctrines rather than constitutional precedents.

For the school question and the voting problem are interwoven in the "Civil Rights" controversy and, curiously enough, the remedy proposed would take away the civil right of a citizen to a jury trial the principle of which is imbedded in the Constitution. Impartial Trial

Just because there have been a few instances of racial prejudice in some jury trials in the south, it now is argued by various members of Congress and executive officials in their speeches that none of the tens of millions of people in the south can be trusted to give an impartial trial by jury.

This is a blanket indictment more severe than ever has been levelled in America against a substantial number of fellow-citizens by the representatives of another segment of the nation.

For the proposal implies that because the processes of reason are beset with difficulties there must be resort to the theory that "the end justifies the means."

This same thing happened once before in perhaps the most shameful chapter in American history when, after the war between the states had ended and a general amnesty had been proclaimed, military units from the north were sent into the legislative chambers of the southern states. At the point of a bayonet, ratification of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution was compelled in ten states after each had rejected it. Southern members of Congress, thereupon were arbitrarily disqualified from voting in either the House or the Senate, notwithstanding the fact that previously the Southern members and their legislatures had in due form approved the thirteenth amendment abolishing slavery and this action had been accepted as legal ratification. No historian of standing in either the north or the south disputes these facts.

Virtual Truce

For 90 years there has been a virtual truce in the northern and southern conflict as to the scope of the Fourteenth Amendment, and the racial problems it presumably covered. Meanwhile, there has been nevertheless a gradual evolution with tremendous progress toward a better understanding between the races. The doctrine of "separate but equal" facilities in public schools which was upheld as the "supreme law of the land" until 1954 was a kind of "modus vivendi"—a compromise between apparently irreconcilable viewpoints yet one that actually encouraged more and more flexibility through the years.

Now the truce has been broken and, instead of trying to adjust conflicting viewpoints by letting each state or each community within a state decide for itself how it shall move toward the solution of its own social problems—a basic American concept of self-government—the confusing court decisions and the threat of coercive "Civil Rights" legislation are retarding progress. Impatiently the doors are opened to bitter resentments which will grow in intensity because compulsion is the wrong way to deal with social problems in a democracy. Inevitably also there will be revived the whole controversy over the immoral and illegal way by which the fourteenth amendment itself was forced into the Constitution in the first place.

"I speak in a spirit of great sadness," said Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, the other day in the Senate. "If Congress is driven to pass this bill in its present form, it will cause unspeakable confusion, bitterness and bloodshed in a great section of our common country. If it is proposed to move into the south in this fashion, the concentration camps may as well be prepared now because there will not be enough jails to hold the people of the south who will oppose the use of raw federal power forcibly to commingle white and negro children in the same schools and places of public entertainment."

Thus after nearly a century of debate, America is again hearing speeches in congress about the use of military forces to back up social viewpoints. This, comes ironically enough, at a time when spokesmen for the United States in the world at large are appealing constantly for the "renunciation of the use of force" as a means of dealing with human friction.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Suez Canal builders are prairie-dogging a tunnel from Calais to Dover. Trying to hide it from Nasser.

Nasser has everything else under Egyptian control and is doing some neat sea-level banking in the irrigation ditch. France and England are paying off like a kicked slot machine.

Moscow is using the Suez short line for its battleships. They've organized a sea-going chorus of the Volga boat song.

This is the first time the Russians have been in the Mediterranean since 1917 as the two-headed crow flies. We may still have a game of tidly-winks with chips on shoulders.

Everything is as neatly manipulated as lumps in a mattress factory. We have a souvenir-collecting armada in the Mediterranean. Future depends if there are more flat-tops indoors than out.

If the jingos are wearing their light summer war-heads there'll be trouble sure as you're wide at the pockets.

Best we can expect is Nasser will raise canalgae at high tide because there's more salt in the water.

Right now there is a cloud over ten Downing no bigger than Win-some's puff on his current cigar.

Arteriosclerosis Dietary Aspects Unsettled

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The low fat diet is becoming more popular because of recent publicity on fat as one of the causes of hardening of the arteries. This diet has some merit but, on the basis of current information, the problem of the dietary aspects of arteriosclerosis is far from settled. My suggestion is not to go off the deep end by making drastic changes in your eating habits.

Most of the evidence incriminates fats at this moment. But many of the reported results are too sensational. Various foods have been condemned without sufficient proof. Many industrial totes have been stepped on and when financial interests are involved, we can expect fireworks galore.

The cholesterol concept appeared several years ago when scientists produced arteriosclerosis in laboratory animals by feeding them large amounts of this fatty substance. This was important research, because hardening of the arteries is responsible for 25 per cent of all deaths and is the underlying cause of coronary thrombosis and angina pectoris.

This was followed by the observation that individuals recovering from heart attacks had more cholesterol in their blood than did those who were free of cardiac disease. Were these individuals eating too much fat? This question is difficult to answer because statistics along this line are not easy to obtain.

The figures show that the increase in deaths from heart disease parallels our greater use of fat in the diet. Half of this increase has come from fats and oils, including bacon, salt pork, and butter; the other half from eggs, meat, poultry, and fish.

Studies also showed that after Finns and Norwegians were starving during World War II, the incidence of heart disease dropped considerably within the next two years. Arteriosclerosis is not common in Italians, Japanese, and the Bantus, who consume little fat in their meals. Furthermore, a low fat diet reduced the amount of cholesterol and other fatty molecules in the blood.

But the latest information along this line is that it is not the quantity of the fat but the type that is important. This angle will be discussed tomorrow.

TOMORROW: Types of fats.

U.S. Steel Seeks $91,000,000 Gift Through Deepening River Channel

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While U. S. Steel was touching off a chain reaction of inflation which will hit everything from bobby pins to automobiles, it was simultaneously pulling wires for a 40-foot channel in the upper Delaware River so bigger ore ships can reach its giant Fairless works at Morrisville, Pa.

Deepening the channel will cost the taxpayers an estimated $91,738,000 — a free gift to U. S. Steel because it is the only company planning to use super ore carriers on the upper Delaware.

This costly project, benefiting one private company, was quietly pushed through the House Appropriations Committee by Chairman Clarence Cannon (D., Mo.). It is now being considered by a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee headed by Senator Allen Ellender (D., La.)

Property owners along the Delaware claim a deeper channel will increase the flood menace. They point out that the last damaging flood in August, 1955, was caused by hurricane-driven water forced up the Delaware. A 40-foot channel would permit more flood water to be driven up the river. If the taxpayers have $91,738,000 to spare, they say, it should be spent on flood control for the benefit of all the property owners.

The White House is incensed over the way U. S. Steel thumbed its nose at President Eisenhower by hiking the price of steel one day after his appeal against inflation. It remains to be seen, however, whether the White House will oppose spending $91,738,000 to dredge a private, dead-end passageway up the Delaware River for the same U. S. Steel. Observers note that in the past Ike has frequently rewarded his opponents in the field of big business, even appointed Ben Fairless, a backstage power in U. S. Steel, to a high advisory post in his administration.

U. S. Steel Dividends

Here's what a tough time U. S. Steel has had during the past ten years. If you invested $10,000 in U. S. Steel in 1947, you will find its value today has shot up to $61,506. During that same ten-year period, it paid dividends of $12,774.

Thus the income and the value added together total $74,280. If you deduct your original investment of $10,000, you received a profit during the ten-year period of $64,280.

Caught Off Base

Last week's crucial Kremlin crisis caught the State Department completely unprepared. Its star ambassador, Chip Bohlen, had been transferred to the Philippines through pure whim, and the new ambassador, Llewellyn Thompson, was still "winding up affairs" in Austria. Ike was golfing at Gettysburg. The Secretary of State was vacationing at Duck Island.

The new American counselor, Richard Davis, had arrived in Moscow only a few weeks before. He's a good man, but was in no position to begin reporting on the most difficult and secret government operations in the world. Because of his low rank, Khrushchev and Bulganin did not come to the 4th of July reception at the American embassy, as would have been the case if an American ambassador were in charge. It is at these receptions that some of the best leaks occur in Moscow.

The State Department was also caught off base in Hungary last fall. The rioting broke out with the American minister absent. Note—Ambassador Bohlen was transferred from Russia to the Philippines not because he wanted it but on the order of John Foster Dulles. Bohlen is one of the few career diplomats who speaks Russian fluently.

Performing Air Force

The Radio City Music Hall is dickering with the Air Force for a 24-man drill team to replace the famed rockettes in New York this summer.

A six-week engagement is being discussed, with an Air Force drum and bugle corps possibly going along to provide musical accompaniment.

Air Force officers are intrigued by the proposal because it would give them a good chance for recruiting publicity. They say Music Hall spokesmen have promised to allow posters and displays in the theater's lobby, built around the theme of "1957 — golden anniversary of the air force."

However, the drill team, which is part of the 1100th Security Squadron at Bolling Field in Washington, is doing a slow burn. Officially, its mission is to supply bodyguards for the high brass and command headquarters of the Air Force if World War III should break out. Meanwhile, the drill team earns its pay by providing ceremonial units for military funerals, parades, and receptions in the capital.

A few months ago, a drill team was supplied for the Ed Sullivan television program. Though this too was a commercial venture, its members enjoyed the jaunt and didn't squawk. But six weeks of continuous performances under hot floodlights is another matter, especially when you're ordered to live on Air Force pay plus $12 a day for hotel and meals in an expensive city like New York.

Negotiations are under way to determine how much of the $12-a-day cost per man would be paid by Radio City Music Hall. Even if it paid all, the Music Hall would still get its "act" at a bargain rate.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

"Always the best man. Never the groom." So observes a Brooklyn bachelor who has been the Best Man at twelve weddings. That's quite a record. However, a British bachelor named Joseph Handisides, who is 59 years old, has been the Best Man at nineteen weddings. Being a Best Man is a nerve-racking assignment. At a recent ceremony in New York the Bridegroom was cool, calm and collected. The bride was likewise. But the Best Man, poor fellow, cracked under the strain. He fainted at the altar.

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q A jockey, according to the Rules of Racing, cannot own and race a thoroughbred at recognized tracks. How about a jockey's wife? A. No rule against a jockey's wife owning a racing stable. However, in states, such as California, where the Community Property Law is in force, such ownership might be questioned. Q. Has there ever been a stage version of "Around The World In Eighty Days" produced. A. In 1870 the Kiralty Brothers produced a highly successful and clever version of the Verne classic. In 1946 another stage version was produced. It was a flop.

ASIDES

Did you ever play in a Married Men vs. Single Men baseball game at a picnic or club outing? If not, cease calling yourself a Young Old Timer. You probably never even competed in a three-legged race. That organization known as "The Camp Fire Girls" now has 480,000 members. I wonder if any woman who had been a Camp Fire Girl married a man who had been a Boy Scout. And, if so, how did the marriage make out?

CURIOUS FOOD

Recently I mentioned a Manhattan food shop that offers such quaint food items as canned fried bees and fried grasshoppers. In Detroit there is a restaurant called "Sefari Land" that lists on its menu: "Steamed Caterpillars—Served With Hot Butter." Also "Fresh Baby Bees—With Drawn Butter Sauce." Also available at this eatery are such curious items as "Rattlesnake Cocktail," "African Lion Tail Soup" and "Buffalobergers."

SIDELIGHTS

Ever hear of an Irishman named Barnaby Cohen? If not, keep the name in mind. It may come up on a quiz program. Barnaby, a native of Dublin, invented and was the first manufacturer of the lead pencil. A three-year-old lad of Dearborn, Mich., has five living great grandparents and four living grandparents. "Is it a record?" asks my informant. Seems like one to me, but I won't bet any stogies on it until Texas, Brooklyn and California are heard from.

AIRLINE SKIPPERS

Some British airline captains burdened with the responsibility of navigating huge passenger planes over difficult international routes are paid a salary that is the equivalent of $125 a week. Certainly a pathetically small pittance for such a dangerous job. Dutch airline pilots are paid the equivalent of $177 a week. So are French airline skippers.

AMONG THE MARRIED

Great Britain has a higher percentage of bigamists than any other nation in the world. Recently uncovered there was a remarkable bigamist. That is, remarkable for the manner in which he for so long handled a highly complicated domestic situation. This man had three wives and three homes. Each wife thought she was the only one. The bigamist discussed is the father of twelve children, nine by one wife, twins by another wife and one by his third wife. Yet, as stated, each of three wives and families were ignorant of the existence of the others. This went on for years until the head of three families finally made a false step that uncovered the strange situation.

PASSING BY

Noel Coward, Actor, playwright and night spot entertainer. Now a resident of Bermuda. By establishing such residence Coward avoids paying United Kingdom income tax. What this tax could amount to is shown by the fact that Coward was paid $28,000 a week for a Las Vegas night club appearance. Besides, he is still writing plays. Although a Bermuda resident, Coward could stay in London for a period up to six months and still not have to pay United Kingdom tax.

Sammy Cahn, Veteran songwriter. Scored his first hit with a new version of the old Hebrew Melody "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen." Remember it? Was on the Hit Parade of 1938. Was popularized by the Andrew Sisters.

The actual bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 heart	2 diamonds
Pass	2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

Today's hand produced a sizable swing in a recent team of four match when the North-South pair at one table bid and made five diamonds, whereas at the other table their adversaries reached three no trump on the bidding set forth here and were set under a barrage of five club tricks.

South felt victimized. He pointed to the highly sound quality of his overall with special emphasis on the fact that he had provided a double heart stopper himself. North, on the other hand, contended that he had the full values for the bid which he had offered and that the whole thing should be written off to hard luck.

Perhaps so. Yet at the other table their adversaries viewed the deal with a certain amount of suspicion and exercised caution to wind up in a minor suit game.

After two passes East in each case opened with one heart. South overcalled with two diamonds and North, of course, tried two no trump. At once South's suspicions were aroused by the concentration of strength in hearts. If North had a sound heart stopper, East's suit must be feeble indeed and there was a grave danger that he held a secondary club suit to justify his opening bid. So South made a cue bid of three hearts. If North persisted with no trump it was South's intention to accept the contract, but North showed his diamond support and South proceeded to five diamonds.

West opened the queen of clubs and declarer ruffed the second round. Trumps were then drawn and declarer ruffed off dummy's remaining club. Declarer postponed taking the heart finesse temporarily to seek an additional chance to fulfill the contract.

He played ace, king, and another spade. If West won the trick the location of the queen of hearts would become immaterial. But East won in and returned the four of hearts. Again there was no hurry about the finesse and declarer cautiously played the nine. West's queen had to come up and the battle was over.

School Board Requests Funds From County

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday was asked for the first of ten installments to operate the Allegany County public school system.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, requested $188,474 for the initial part of the total of $1,884,744 which the county levied for the schools.

Webster also requested the $5,000 capital outlay item listed in 1957-58 budget which will be used to purchase furniture for various schools this summer.

In other business, the commissioners received a letter from the Allegany County Beagle Club recommending the appointment of Merwin R. Hast Jr., of Union Grove to the newly created position of county humane officer.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, informed the board that the Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company again asked for speed limit signs in that vicinity. Chapman was authorized to acquire them.

Chapman also reported on a condition he investigated on Diehl Avenue in the Park Heights section, and said that the thoroughfare was not in the county roads system.

The commissioners were invited by Robert B. Kimble, chairman of the State Department of Employment Security, to a buffet lunch today at 7 p. m. at the Cumberland Brewing Company. The social event is in connection with opening of the new ESB quarters on North Mechanic Street.

11 Youths Will Be Inducted

Four local youths and seven Frostburg area men will report to Fairmont on Tuesday, July 16, for induction into the Armed Forces.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator for the local Selective Service boards, said yesterday that the inductees will include two from Board 29 and one each from boards 27 and 28.

The local youths will report to the Post Office at 6:15 a. m., and will leave by chartered bus at 7 a. m. The bus will stop in Frostburg to pick up a group there.

Eighteen local youths will also leave with the group for physicals, Fahey said.

Scheduled to leave from Board 30 in Frostburg are Raymond F. Kemp and John Thomas Connelly, both of Frostburg; Paul Hutchison and John H. Hughes, both of Lonaconing; John Francis Blubaugh, Midland; Donald E. Hyde, Shaft, and Jack H. McKenzie, Finzel.

SPORTS GRILL

NEW YORK—(INS)—Bend an ear this way if you want to know how publicity is worked in the fight racket.

The phone rings and Ned Brown, whom we've known 40 years, says:

"Say, how about giving us a little plug on the fight?"

(He means the heavyweight title bout between champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Hurricane Jackson in the Polo Grounds July 29. And how is that for a plug, Ned?)

Ned continues:

"How about riding a helicopter down to Jackson's camp to see him work?"

We assured Ned that if we never see Jackson again, working, fighting or sleeping, it will be too soon.

"Now don't be that way," Ned complains. "Remember how everybody said the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier bout was no contest and turned out to be a thriller?"

We reminded Ned that we were writing reports for the old New York American at the time and "ghosting" for Dempsey on the side. We remember very well how the gorgeous Frenchman landed a right flush on Dempsey's jaw in the second round—sending Jack back on his heels while the crowd sat stunned for a moment.

"That's right," Ned agreed eagerly. But we cooled him off when we asked if he remembered what Dempsey told his worried manager, Jack Kearns, at the end of the round, namely:

"If that's all he's got, he can forget it." (That's our cleaned up version of what Jack actually said).

"Well," Ned insisted, "maybe you'll agree that this fight resembles the Luis Firpo Dempsey fight in the Polo Grounds, and you'll recall that was the most sensational heavyweights fight of all time."

Yes, we remembered that one, too, and we agreed that Firpo didn't know any more about fighting than Jackson does. But we recalled, too, that the Wild Bull of the Pampas had dynamite in his "round-house" swings and was bigger and stronger than Jack-

Firpo happened to catch Dempsey with one of those wild swings he brought up from the floor, and he knocked Jack out of the ring to land with his neck and shoulders on Jack Lawrence's typewriter.

Incidentally, that reminds us Lawrence got a fat check for a picture of himself and his typewriter to prove that even a heavyweight champion landing on his machine couldn't hurt it.

Ned also reminded us—and this has truth and merit—that Benny Leonard, one of the greatest of all lightweight champions, once said:

"I'd rather fight a real good fighter than a bum who knows nothing, because you're liable to be careless and get tagged. With a good fighter, you know what to expect and act accordingly."

City To Keep Signs On Henderson Ave.

Stop signs will remain on Henderson Avenue as a safety measure although automatic traffic signals are in operation.

But the traffic lights when in operation, take precedence over the stop signs, Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday.

Eves said he had received a number of complaints from motorists who claimed that the lights and stop signs together are confusing.

However, Eves in checking with the State Roads Commission found that although no law covers the situation, the light takes precedence and the stop signs remain as a safety measure in event the lights fail to function or they are taken out of operation for any other reason.

In other words, he added, the stop signs will serve if the lights fail.

The Mayor pointed out that in Baltimore which also has automatic lights, there are stop signs at all streets approaching a main thoroughfare.
